INTRODUÇÃO

Olá! Iniciaremos a oitava aula do curso de Língua Inglesa 5 fazendo uma volta ao tempo e abordando uma temática de conhecimento geral. Durante essa unidade você vai relembrar momentos em família e expor seu ponto de vista no modo atual de criar e educar os filhos. Para iniciar como uma reflexão vamos pensar sobre os seguintes temas: Parents, children, child care, punishment, rewarding, relentless, stressful, spoil, monitor.

Após ler as palavras acima, quais mais vieram em sua mente? Alguma te fez retornar a uma experiência já vivida? Alguma corresponde a um momento específico de sua vida?

Como poderíamos expressar situações assim em inglês? Ações relativas a um tempo no passado e que se vincula a algo mais é o que vamos destacar ao longo desta lição!

DESENVOLVIMENTO

Como uma opção para se envolver mais com a temática, sugerimos que assista o vídeo mencionado no seguinte link: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5vCDj0tsEp0, você também pode localizar o vídeo pelo nome: "Parenthood" Trailer.

Você acredita que as famílias hoje em dia enfrentam as temáticas abordadas no trailer?

Leia o texto abaixo e responda as questões:

- A Pair work Discuss these questions. Then read the article, and compare your ideas to the author's.
- 1. Look at the title of the article. What do you think it's going to be about?
- 2. Do you think parents should be strict With their children?

UPSIDE- DOWN FAMILIES

The parents set the rules and the children obey, right? Wrong. In a growing number of North American families, adults have let their children take over. "Parents want to be nurturing and make their small children happy, but many have become confused about the best way to achieve this," explains a noted child psychologist. "Large numbers of parents are being controlled by their child, to the point that entire families end up organizing themselves around & small child's emotions." The problem is that many mothers and fathers try to be a friend to their children. However, parenting is not a popularity contest. Challenging authority is a normal part of child development and is strongest between the ages of four and six. Setting rules and enforcing them teaches the child that he or she is equal in worth but not equal in authority. Then the child feels safe and secure and can be a kid again. ,Believe it or not, it's frightening for children to realize they are in charge of a situation. In upside-down families, When parents back down from rules they set, children become very insecure, anxious, and out of control. They don't trust their parents to protect them. Parents should follow these tips to avoid this situation and keep control.

- Be a leader. Parents cannot guide a child and seek his or her approval of their decisions at the same time.
- Don't say, "It's time for bed. OK?" Instead, say, "It's time for bed, kids." Don't make rules quickly and then change them. It's very important to be consistent. Once you make a rule, stick to it.
- Pay less attention to your children when their behavior is bad and more when it is good. Do not reward bad behavior by giving extra attention to it. Instead, save your attention for When the child acts appropriately.
- Don't allow your kids to call you by your first name. This removes the authority figure in a child's life. Children need Parents, not another friend.
- B- Pair work Which of these statements would the author agree with? Which ones do you agree With?
- 1. Children don't usually challenge authority.
- 2. Children like to feel that they are in charge.
- 3. It's important for parents to discipline children.
- 4. Parents should be leaders, not friends.

Diante desta situação, qual tempo verbal foi usado pelo garoto? Como podemos relacionar a ação dele com a ação dos pais?

Para essas situações em que falamos de duas ações que ocorrem no passado, podemos destacar uma delas como a primeira ocorrida, ou seja, a que aconteceu antes que a outra no passado. Ao se referir a primeira ação, devemos colocar o verbo no passado perfeito.

Reading

1 - Read Paulina's article about her upbringing. Choose the best title:

Thanks, Mum and Dad! Why punishment does not always work The importance of table manners

There are always two sides to any situation. In the case of my upbringing, it was neither completely strict, nor completely lenient because my parents were totally different in their views on discipline. For my mother, everything was black and white; she had clear rules about how we should behave, and there were punishments if we did not obey. My father, on the other hand, was always calm and incapable of telling us to do something that we didn't agree with. Sometimes I used to complain to him about my mother and he would try to explain her reactions. I think this has taught me how to deal with conflicts and reach a compromise. Something that I learnt from both my parents was the importance of having respect for other people. I remember one day when we were travelling on a bus and I sat down while other people were standing. She shouted at me "Get up immediately! You have young legs and you don't need to sit down". At the time I felt very embarrassed about being told off in public, but now I understand. I think children nowadays have lost that respect and it really irritates me if I see children sitting down while older people are standing. One area in which we had a lot of rules was table manners. For example, we weren't allowed to start our meal until the oldest person had started. We had to say "thank you" when our food was served, and eat everything on our plates before we could leave the table. We couldn't make any noise, such as smacking our lips, burping, or stirring our tea or coffee loudly. Worse than that, we were only allowed to have sweets at the weekend, as a special treat if we had been good. Although my upbringing was perhaps a bit strict compared with modern children, I'm very grateful to my parents for giving me & clear direction in life. Even though I was sometimes punished, I think it has made me a better person. In my view, children need clear rules, but more than that they need to learn how to get on with other people and realise they are not the centre of the world.

2 - Choose the correct option.

- 1 Paulina's parents had strict / lenient / diferent opinions about bringing up children.
- 2 Her father often / sometimes / never used to get angry with her.
- 3 She found the differences between her parents confusing annoying / helpful.
- 4 Her family were relaxed / strict / lenient about table manners.
- 5 She had to / didn't have to / was allowed to eat everything on her plate.
- 6 She was often / sometimes / never allowed to eat sweets.
- 7 She thinks punishment spoiled / helped / damaged her.
- 8 She particularly appreciated the rules / guide-lines / treats her parents gave her.

Writing skills: writing an article for a magazine or website

A Features of a good article

- l Tick (1) the four features that you think are the most important in a magazine article.
- 1 An attention-grabbing title.
- 2 An interesting first line.
- 3 Colourful or descriptive language.
- 4 Questions to make the reader think.
- 5 A style that is neither too formal nor too informal.
- 6 Personal experiences.
- 7 Clear and strong opinions.
- 8 A thought-provoking ending.
- 2 Work in pairs and discuss your ideas. To what extent has Paulina included these features in her article?

B Giving examples

Another way to make an article more interesting is to give clear, concrete examples

- a In the case of my up bringing, it was neither completely strict, nor completely lenient.
- b Take my own up bringing, for example. It was neither very strict. Nor very lenient.
- c One area in which we had a lot of rules was table manners. For example, we weren 't allowed to start our meal until the oldest person started.
- d We couldn't make any noise, such smacking our lips.

I In Which sentences in the examples could you use like and for instance?

- 2 Complete the sentences With one of the expressions
- My mother was very strict about our studies. _____ we had to do our homework every afternoon before our meal.
- We sometimes got into trouble because we disobeyed______ the rules. the day we played football With our friend Martin, for instance.
- Some parents don7t care about what their children do. _____ my father, it Was very different.
- We weren't allowed to eat junk food_____ chocolate or crisps.

Preparing to write

- 1. Read Talking about your upbringing below. Complete the sentences so that they are true for you.
- 2. Read your sentences to a partner, and ask and answer questions about them.
- 3. Together, think of a good title for articles describing each of your experiences.

Talking about your upbringing

My upbringing was quite strict/very strict/lenient My parents had clear/a lot of/some rules about I wasn't allowed to

I had to

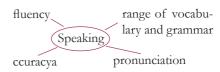

Something that I learned from my parents was I'm grateful to my parents for I think this has taught me how to

Writing

Use your notes and discussion to write an article about your upbringing. Include some of the features of a good article.

DEVELOPING YOUR SPEAKING SKILLS

Speaking consists of different skills:

- 1 Read the statements about speaking problems. Match each statement to one of the skills above.
- 1 I speak too slowly because I am translating from my language.
- 2 Sometimes people can't understand my accent.
- 3 I know the rule when people correct me but I still make the same mistakes.
- 4 I often pause to think about what I want to say.
- 5 Sometimes I feel frustrated because I can't express my ideas in detail.
- 6 I wish I sounded more like a native speaker. 7 I've never learned the rules so my grammar is often incorrect.
- 8 I only know one way to make requests. I need toknow more, for different situations.

Work in pairs and discuss your ideas. Do you share any of these problems? Which of the skills do you need to improve most?

2 Here are some strategies for improving speaking. Which skill or skills do you think each one develops?

Record yourself speaking. Play the recording and note your errors. Then do the task again.

Do the same as above, but this time plan more varied words and grammatical structures.

Work with & pronunciation website or CD.

Ask your partner or friends to correct you.

Rehearse conversations in English in your head.

Before having a conversation, plan words and phrases that you could use.

Listen to a recording by a native speaker and copy their pronunciation. Then practise speaking as you listen to the recording.

Memorise dialogues and useful conversation expressions.

3 Work in pairs. Choose two strategies to try out.

CONCLUSÃO

Nesta aula aprendemos que em Inglês é possível relacionar dois fatos ocorridos no passado e apenas com o uso do tempo verbal diferenciado destacar qual ação ocorreu primeiro. Além disso, estudamos alguns textos e vídeos que abordaram uma temática atual e que possibilitou uma reflexão comparativa.

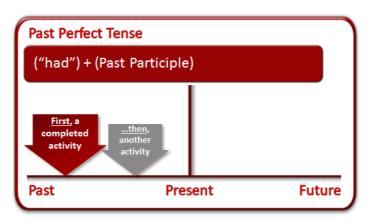

I had just sat down to have lunch when the phone rang.

Exemplo de frase no passado perfeito. Fonte http://inglesparaleigos.com/wp-content/uploads/2014/05/past-perfect.jpg

O passado perfeito é empregado para falar de uma ação que aconteceu no passado, anteriormente à outra ação no passado. Esse tempo verbal é invariável, isto significa que a forma verbal será a mesma para todos os sujeitos.

Para as seguintes perguntas espera-se que sua resposta seja SIM, do contrário, sugerimos que retome a lição e pratique um pouco mais.

Reconheço e identifico as diferentes situações para o uso do passado perfeito?

Reconheço a estrutura e emprego dos verbos?

Sou capaz de falar sobre mais que uma experiência do passado e relacionar ao tempo verbal adequado?

Nessa aula fizemos uma volta ao passado para recordar fatos em família! Na próxima aula retornaremos ao passado, mas para falar de memórias em geral, especificamente aos hábitos que tínhamos e não temos mais. Além do contato com novos contextos e situações. Até lá!
